Meeting opened with singing "Leaning On The Everlasting Arms."

John Cook, moderator, called on Dr. Bob Owen, host pastor for the devotion. He spoke from Gen. 12:1.

John Cook called the meeting to order and led in special prayer for Dennis McDonald and family in the death of his father.

Old Business:

John Cook addressed the issue concerning the churches that were under watchcare who failed to submit a church profile last year (1995). He stated that Ronald Long and the appointed committee had made contact with the churches and that ten of the fifteen had turned in a profile, leaving five that did not. The names of the five churches are: Kingdom Building, Mt. Calvary, New Mission, Pittman Grove and Stoney Point. A motion was made and seconded to remove these churches names from the New South River Baptist Association of Churches.

The moderator reported there were four churches who failed to submit a profile for the year 1996. A motion was made by Sam Owens and seconded by James Jones to place these churches under watchcare and seek to find why no report was sent to the association. The names of the churches are: Cross Creek, First United, Highland, and Sharon. After a time of discussion vote was taken and passed.

ELDER/ADULT DAY CARE

After over a year of meetings and seeking direction for an Elder/Adult Day Care ministry your committee has found what we believe to be the missing ingredient in determining whether or not this is an actual area of ministry that our association of churches should be involved in.

We believe that the most effective way to determine the proper course of action is to take a portion of the monies designated for Elder/Adult Day Care (there is approximately $9,300.00 in this account) and employ a person with both the time and expertise to do a proper feasibility study. The study will not exceed $5,000.00 in money and will be given 90 days for its completion. This study will be done in cooperation with the Baptist Retirement Home of NC and use Mr. Jim Lenhardt as limited consultant. Mr. Lenhardt is the immediate past president of the Adult Day Care of NC and the Executive Director of Mountain Care in Asheville, NC. We readily admit that there are questions that this study will not address, for example this study will not address such matters as the cost of an Elder/Adult Day Care or the location of such a facility, neither does it include the type, i.e. social, medical or a combination of both. This is a study to determine need. It seems to your committee that before we embark on such a journey that we should invest in properly determining if the need is legitimate and if we can address that need in a manner that will bring glory to God and be for the good of the participants. It is to this end that we ask you to endorse this procedure and simply approve this as the most logical method to proceed.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

Peter's Creek Baptist Church
January 20, 1998
10:00 a.m.

Opening hymn "Down At The Cross."

Welcome and devotion given by host pastor Dr. Bob Owen. Scripture from Isaiah 31.

Called to order by moderator John Cook.

Minutes were presented and approved.

Reports:

Budget and Finance: Thurman Smith went over the report. He stated that the association had a surplus of over $47,000.00 known as overages and unspent funds at the present. He said association finances are in good condition.

Two questions were asked about New Mission Church. Are we getting anything from them on their debt and are they participating in the association? The answer to both questions was no.

Thurman Smith had three recommendations:

1. The association contribute $50.00 per month for Billy Warren, part time employee to use as Annuity and Life Insurance. After a time for discussion the motion was passed.
2. The Association contribute $50.00 per month for Ronnie Nichols, pastor of Cool Spring Church to use for Annuity. After discussion the motion passed.
3. That $10,500.00 be appropriated to sponsor the trip to South Africa for Dr. Gault and Bobby Dobbs and to purchase video equipment to be used by them to film points of interest of the mission trip. The video will be returned to the association office so the churches can have the privilege of using it to encourage members to go to South Africa to do mission work. The association may be reimbursed as much as $2,000.00 from Bobby Dobbs' Association. The video equipment will be the property of our association and can be used by churches in the future. Dr. Gault reported that he had received information from Cape Town, that there was a need for 10 to 20 people to go in July to do mission work. After a time of discussion the motion passed.

A letter from Ronnie Reynolds was read by Thurman Smith requesting financial assistance for a Korean Ministry at Bonnie Doone Church. They have called Rev. Brian Cho as minister to the unchurched Koreans in their community. The request is for $200.00 per month beginning February 1, 1998 through December 31, 1998. Thurman Smith offered the motion, Roger White seconded the motion. After a time for discussion the motion passed.

Evangelism Report: Randy White announced that there would be a "How To" Workshop at Spring Lake First Baptist on February 23 at 7:00 p.m.

Randy White announced the Associational Evangelism Conference would be held at Grace Baptist Church on September the 14th and 15th. Music by Robert Winecoff, speakers will be Mark Corts and Herb Reavis.

Brotherhood - John Cook read a note from North Korea expressing appreciation for the coats that were donated to the children during the month of December.

VBS - Dennis McDonald stated that five clinics would be held this year. 1. March 9 for all pastors held at First United Church at 10:00 AM.; 2. March 21 at Massey Hill for pastors and directors at 10:00 a.m.; 3. April 7 at Trinity for workers at 7:30 p.m.; 4. April 21 at Freedom for workers, 7:30 p.m.; 5. May 12 at Pleasant Grove for workers at 7:30 p.m.

Ron Long stated that some volunteers from our association would be joining volunteers from Robeson Association for a mission trip to Brazil

New Business: Personnel Committee changes: John Cook read the recommendation to employ Ronnie Reynolds as manager of the Beatitude House (20 hours per week). After a time for discussion the motion passed.

John Cook read the recommendation that Mitchell Shields become a Church Development Missionary Associate. He will work with individual churches for a period of 10 weeks 12 hours per week and work with The Christian Development Center (Seminary Extension) for 8 hour. This will be a 20 hour per week job and salary will be adjusted accordingly. After a time for discussion the motion passed.

Ronnie Reynolds made a report on the Beatitude House. He said that the food items given for Thanksgiving and Christmas was a great success with over 63 churches participating. He said many of the people helped had returned to show the appreciation. He thanked the churches and individuals who helped in meeting these needs by giving household supplies, clothing and food. He said that some of the churches that give are non-Baptist churches.

Dr. Gault said when he came to the Association he was told that a great need was in the area of communication. He said that is still a need and is asking all to help by getting information out to the churches. The need now is for churches to turn in the names of their Sunday School Teachers to the Association

John Cook sated that the annual reports are available and when you pick up your annual report for your church, please sign the sheet so they will know who received theirs.

Dr. Gault stated that he would be out of the office from February 17-March 3. If you have any needs contact John Cook.

Benediction -John Cook

Minutes presented and approved.

Reports:

Evangelism - Randy White reported that the Evangelism Conference would be held at Grace Baptist Church on September 14 and 15 and he asked that the churches help promote and publicize the services.

Committee on Committees - Report was given by Dudley Neal in the absence of Roger White. He passed out sheets of paper indicating places that needed to be filled and asked for the help of the churches in filling these places by suggesting names of individuals to the committee.
Nominating Committee - Dr. Bob Phipps reported that they should soon be through with their work.

Brotherhood - David Weeks announced that there would be two important meetings coming very soon. August 7 and 8 a leadership meeting for the Brotherhood at Caraway Conference Center. September 3, 7:00- 9:00 PM, state leaders will be leading in a workshop at the associational office. David stated that whatever material churches need for men or boys could be found at the Baptist Book Store.

VBS -Dennis McDonald thanked everyone for their help and encouraged each church to follow-up with their prospect list and to send in their VBS report to the Association.

New Work -Greg Barefoot stated that the committee was continuing its work.

Budget and Finance - Dr. Gault called attention to the financial report of current assets, other checking and investment/reserve. He also pointed out that when money was designated it had to be used for what it was given for by the donor and could not be moved to another place. Dr. Gault asked if anyone had a question. Dudley Neal wanted to know if the $1.00 per SS member for the South Africa Project had been determined. Dr. Gault said he could not give that figure until he checked it at the office. He said the trip is still on for September and there is a need for people to go and do church work.

New Business:

Adult Day Care - Randy White gave a recommendation from the Adult Day Care Service Committee. When there have been funds in the amount of $200,000 plus property received we recommend that the New South River Baptist Association have groundbreaking services for the proposed facility. After a time for discussion the recommendation passed. Dr. Gault reported that $85,000 had already been given toward the project.

Dr. Gault introduced Pastor Parks of the Korean Baptist Mission in Spring Lake. Dr. Gault said the mission was trying to work out arrangements with the Central Baptist Church so they can use their facilities. It is estimated that it will take $8,164.00 to do repair and renovation at Central Church. Dr. Gault said that Spring Lake First is holding $5,000 for the Korean Mission . David Weeks made a motion to free the money and let the Korean mission have it so they can help Central Church with the renovation and repairs. After a time of discussion there seemed to be a lot of unanswered questions concerning the details of the agreement between Central and the Korean Mission. Dr. Bob Owen made a motion to table the issue until all the parties involved came to a clear understanding of what the agreements were. After a second and vote the moderator said the motion failed to pass. Dudley Neal then made substitute motion to previous motion, to give the authority to the Associational Council once the agreement has been made by all parties involved to transact the business for the association concerning the $5,000 which belongs to the Korean Mission. A second was made and question was called for and the motion passed.

Dr. Gault presented a recommendation that the Associational Council name a committee of twenty one (21) persons to study the following questions and be asked to report to the Annual Session on October 20,

I. What is the purpose (role) of the New South River Baptist Association?

II. Why does the association exist?

III. Does the association need to exist?

IV. What should the New South River Baptist Association be like in the twenty-first century?

This committee should reflect the make-up of the association. It should have both male and female members. It should have clergy from all size churches. It should be a majority of lay people from the different churches. No person who receives financial support from the association should be named to this committee. It was the feelings of the group that more time would be needed - October 20, 1998 would be too soon. Dr. Glen Holt made a motion to accept this recommendation with an amendment to remove that Annual Session date of October 20, 1998 from the proposal. Second by Mark Fisher. After a time for discussion the question was called for and the motion passed.

Prayer requests were made.

Benediction by John Cook.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

It has been said: "God is in the facts of history as He is in the march of the seasons, the revolutions of the planets, or the architecture of the worlds." So surely as He has been in the history of our association, He will be with us in the seasons of our future. Let it be clearly understood that the burdens and blessings of the past came to us on the shoulders of those who have preceded us.

As we stand upon the threshold of a new century and even a new millennium, let us hold dear in memory the names of those whom our Lord has used to make the New South River Baptist Association what it is today. Let us pray that we, walking in their steps, may move into even more glorious realms of Kingdom service. As seasons, centuries and even millennium come and go, we would remind ourselves (with poetic license and apologies to John Greenleaf Whitier).

Fold them, O Father in thine arms,
And let them henceforth be Messengers of love between
Our human hearts and thee

God provides adequate comfort for us through words penned by the apostle Paul and found in his Epistle to the Christians at Thessalonia (1st These. 4:13-18).

Report of the Committee of Twenty-one To the New South River Baptist Association

Date: October 18, 1999
Presented by: Dr. Douglas A. Washburn

Background:

The Committee of 21 was composed of both ministerial staff and lay leaders from a wide variety of churches within the Association. Fortunately or unfortunately, we had no framework, no direction, no idea of how to proceed. But as we discussed the question of how best to go forward, we made an early key decision. We invited Lynn Sasser of the Mt. Zion Association to come talk to us about a two year process that their Association had gone through that led to a thorough reorganization of both staff and function within their office. Lynn's presentation did two things for the committee: First, it brought us to the understanding that this would be no short or simple process; as a result, several members of the committee dropped out because of time commitment involved: Second, it led us to adopt the Peter Drucker Self-Assessment tool for non-profit organizations as a way to study the NSRBA. While the Drucker tool is not designed for church organizations, it did prove to be a valuable means to look at organization, structure, function, and the expectations of the members of this Association. At the least, it provided us with a format for proceeding, and suggested ways to poll the membership to determine their perceptions, concerns, issues and ideas. Most of the information used to answer the 4 questions we were given was gleaned from the result of the survey we sent out to the Association. If anyone who wanted to be surveyed did not get a survey, I apologize. But we did get a significant return on the surveys and the results seem to indicate trends that were important in formulating our responses to the four questions we were asked to answer.

Now on to the four questions we were asked to address:

Question #1. Does the Association need to exist?

We gave out over 500 questionnaires, and received 68 responses from ministerial staff and 34 responses from lay leaders. About half of the ministerial staff offered to follow-up with interviews, while about a third of the lay leaders made a similar offer. We were able to talk to about 80% of those who offered to be interviewed. (I apologize to those who wanted to be but were not interviewed; there was no effort to exclude anyone. It was simply a matter of people and time.) The results of the survey for this question were clear. Of 102 surveys, only two ministers and one lay person felt that the Association had outlived its usefulness, less than 3%. On the other hand, a total of 65.5% of respondents said that the activities of the Association were always effective or usually effective. And as we will see in a moment, these results suggested that respondents wanted the Association to do a lot of things for its membership. Another way to look at these results is to say that about two-thirds of the respondents were very pleased with the activities of the Association, while a miniscule proportion of respondents felt that the Association should be disbanded.

Question # 2. Why does the Association exist?

We approached this question from tow distinct perspectives. First, we looked at the mission of the Association and began to formulate ways in which to put that mission into a succinct statement. This effort was part of the Drucker self-assessment, since he points out that lack of clear mission often derails objective efforts to organize according to function. In other words, if the mission of the organization is not clearly articulated, often it is not serving the needs of its membership. Once we had formulated a draft mission statement, we saved it for rewording once we had the results of our survey. The statement that you see here is the final mission statement that we agreed upon as a result of our deliberations after studying the results of the survey:

> The New South River Baptist Association, guided by the Holy Spirit, exists to assist churches to accomplish their biblical purposes and to do together what can not be done alone.

The survey results on this question were also very interesting, since they reflect what the respondents felt the NSRBA should be doing. In studying the survey results, and using comments from the follow-up interviews, we determined that most respondents replied along the lines of the traditional activities of the Association. In order, 65.5 percent felt the Association should be creating joint mission projects, 62.1 percent wanted to see the Association assist churches in their work, and 48.3 percent want to have the Association improve fellowship among member churches. The first and third responses suggest that the Association is to be a sort of "mother" church that organizes activities for all the member churches. The second response is somewhat ambiguous, because of the way we worded it; assisting churches does not really have any meaning until you ask what is meant by "assisting."

In the final analysis, the Association exists to assist churches and to do together what individual churches can not really accomplish alone. As an inside, I do not want to point out that we recognized that not all churches need to work cooperatively with the NSRBA; some are clearly large enough to go it alone. But we assumed that as member churches they would be part of the cooperative effort to further the biblical work of all the member churches.

Question # 3. What is the purpose of the NSRBA?

Mission flows from purpose, so if the mission is to assist churches and to create joint projects, then the purpose must reflect those activities. To understand what respondents felt the purpose of the Association was, we asked them to tell us two things. First, which needs can the Association help you with? On the screen I have the results for this question from the ministerial survey. As you can see, the top three items stand out - in order, they are worker training - 60.3%, educational opportunities - 51.7%, and spiritual enrichment/support - 43.1%. The interview results very strongly supported these three areas: a number of interviewees suggested that discipleship training, leader training, educational opportunities, even mentoring, were areas the Association could help them with. Several also mentioned the dichotomy between the small and large churches - with smaller and especially churches with bi-vocational pastors suggesting that the Association could be helpful to them. Two respondents specifically mentioned that some of the larger churches could be helpful in this regard for the smaller congregations.

The second question asked what the most pressing challenges were to their ministries. On the screen I have the results from that response. Again, in order, 52.2% - lack of trained leaders, 32.8% - lack of spiritual depth in the congregation, and 20.7% - community changes. The correlation between the previous question and this one is very strong. The respondents clearly see their greatest problems in the lack of trained lay leaders and lack of spirituality within their congregations; at the same time they suggest that the Association could best help them with educational opportunities, leader training, and support in spiritual enrichment.

Question # 4. What should the NSRBA be like in the 21st century?

The committee of twenty one decided at our second meeting, and it was backed up by the interviews, that the Association should not compete with member churches for time, people, or resources, and that the Association should not tell member churches how to do their work. Thus anything that the Association should not compete with member churches for time, people, or resources, and that the Association does in the way of joint projects or assistance needs to enhance the ability of pastors and their congregations to fulfill the great commission. As such, assistance and mission projects need to be designed to help churches as they bring more people into their lay leadership core and into greater involvement in the programs and activities of the local church while increasing their commitment to follow Christ is at the core of what our local churches do best.

Having said that there is an irony in the responses of pastoral staff to the three questions I have discussed here this evening. What pastors saw as their most pressing needs and greatest challenges were lack of lay leadership, little spiritual depth, and a need for educational opportunities. Yet when asked what the Association should be doing, these same pastors, you, reverted to the traditional responses of joint mission projects and fellowship, along with "assist" to churches. The irony is that joint mission projects normally pull people out of local congregations to work on these projects, which would only further reduce the time and availability of lay leadership to the local congregation. It was the collective experience of our group that mission projects were usually done by those who were already heavily investing their time in their own churches. Having them involved i mission projects would exacerbate one of the most pressing needs of the local congregation, not resolve it. This fact underlies the need to have mission projects that will increase the number of church members involved in mission activities. But that is unlikely to occur without greater spiritual depth.

So, when the committee considered the issue of what the Association should look like in the 21st century, we kept all of these competing interests in mind. I would like now to present four recommendations about the Association.

1. Organize around and reflect its purpose. We see no mandate for drastic change at the Association. Indeed, many complemented Dr. Gault, Mitchell Shields, and the staff for the excellent work they have been doing. Most respondents were satisfied with what the Association has been doing and want to see this work continue, especially as it relates to mission projects. Nonetheless, there was an indicated need for work in the area of assisting churches, most clearly expressed in both the written surveys and oral interviews, as leadership training, educational opportunities, and spiritual enrichment. In our discussions, we noted that the Association already provides some of this type of training, but that any respondents seemed unaware of these activities. Organizing to assist churches while retaining missions focus may increase the number of activities undertaken by the Association, but it will reflect the needs of the member churches and enhance the ability of member churches to fulfill their mission.

2. Staff to purpose. In addition to a director, whose title may need to be changed from director of missions, we would suggest that the Association look at staffing to the purposes it needs.to fill. In the case of short, and unscientific study, that would mean two assistants who focus on different aspects of the Association's work. The first would be involved solely with missions and joint projects, coordinating the efforts of member churches to maximize the impact on the community of these activities. The second would focus primarily on the "assistance to churches" area of work, helping to organize training, education, and spiritual enhancement activities that would benefit individual churches. Clearly, this would be an expansion of Association activity; but having paid staff as opposed to volunteers and an organized program of assistance as opposed to ad hoc efforts would be best. It may also be that these efforts will need to be directed more at individual churches rather than Association-wide, so that they can have the most impact on the growth of the affected congregations. In such an organizational scheme, the director would be feed to develop relationships that can be used to facilitate the work of the two assistants.

3. Streamline administration. Our committee was a microcosm of a problem mentioned in several of the interviews and experienced by some of us personally before our involvement on this committee. We began with 21 members, and though officially we still had 16 by the end, in fact only a handful regularly attended meetings and participated. The Association has too many committees with too many meetings to get meaningful work done. The process and procedure for accomplishing anything meaningful is long and tedious because virtually all decisions are referred to committee. This concept violates the most basic rules of management. In the case of NSRBA, the Association and its executive board should set policy direction and provide guidance. Most subsequent decisions should be mae by the managerial staff of the Association; that is what they are supposed to do. Personally, I think most committees should be done away with, or at the least, every committee should be subject to a sunset law - if they have done nothing meaningful in any given year they should be abolished.

4. Empower your leadership. Along with a minor reorganization and a streamlining of administration, we suggest that the leadership be empowered to take charge of the organization. Dr. Gault is strongly supported by the vast majority of the membership, and he has provided good leadership. But reducing the committee structure and giving him greater freedom to lead would make the organization more dynamic and responsive. The hands of the director need to be untied. It struck several members of the committee that Dr. Gault should have been leading this study and directing the activities of the group, yet the Association decided that no member of the committee should be a paid employee of the Association. Having a group like ours study the Association without the active leadership of the director of missions would be akin to having your deacons study the function of your church and suggesting how it should be changed without you being involved in any way. I doubt that many of you would be willing to have your church studied by anyone unless you were an integral part of the study.

Finally, I would like to close by making a general recommendation from the committee. Our study of these four questions has led us to make some recommendations. But before anything is done we strongly suggest that the Association undertake to flesh out the information we have presented here and to follow the study of the Association and what it should look like in the future to a logical conclusion. It may be that greater reorganization is necessary, or it may be that the Association needs to be staffed in ways other than what we have suggested. Those kinds of decisions can only be made in light of more complete study undertaken by the director of missions and his staff as they look more closely at the needs of member churches.

In closing, I would like to thank Dr. Gault and Mitchell Shields, as well as the staff of the Association for their support to our work. When queried for information and documents, they were always responsive to our needs and helped us in all ways.

I would also like to thank all of you for your patience. I hope our efforts have adequately answered the questions posed last year, and that the Association will continue to look at how to best facilitate the work of the local congregations in this Association.

In Memoriam

Thomas Jefferson ("T.J.") Fulk
October 9, 1915 - June 18, 2000

Rev. Fulk was born in Mt. Airy, N.C. on October 9, 1915 to Joseph Raymond Fulk and Fannie Alice Lawry Fulk. He attended Mars Hill College, Wake Forest and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

At the age of 14, he pastored two churches in the mountains. He held pastorates in Indiana, Kentucky, and South Carolina. From 1949 - 1960 he was pastor of Trinity Baptist Church. In 1962 he was called to pastor Immanuel Baptist Church and remained their pastor until he retired in 1983, after 70 years of ministry. He served as moderator of the New South River Baptist Association. He was appointed "Pastor Emeritus" at Immanuel Church March 7, 1999. Although he retired, he continued at numerous churches in the local area as supply and interim. He was serving as interim at Golfview Drive Baptist Church when he passed away.

Mr. Fulk is survived by two daughters, Teresa Hawkins of Carrollton, Ohio and Tomilee F. Evans of Mullins, S.C. His wife of 51 years, Marilee, died in 1992.

He was a gentle and caring friend to all and will be greatly missed by all whose lives he touched.

The 2000 Annual Minutes of the New South River Baptist Association are dedicated in loving memory of Rev. Fulk.

In Memoriam

Robert (Bob) S. Owen
March 10, 1935 - February 26, 2000

Dr. Owen was born March 10, 1935 in Washington, D.C. and grew up in Maryland. He attended Southern Baptist Center for Biblical Studies in Jacksonville, Florida.

Bob went home to meet his Lord on February 26, 2000. At the time of his home going, he was pastor of Peter's Creek Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Dava Ann; daughter, Cindy Lou Wise; two sons, Clifford Wade and Jeffrey Stephen; and 4 grandchildren.

His leadership expanded far beyond the Peter's Creek Walls and into his community. He was an active part of the New South River Baptist Association, serving on committees and helping organize events. He even developed a Mission Study Guide for the Association which summarizes the various ministries and programs we are involved in. He also wrote and portrayed two one-man dramas: "Joab the Pharisee" and "The Prophet", and presented these in various churches.

The 2000 Annual Minutes of the New South River Baptist Association are dedicated in loving memory of Dr. Owen.
